

Sample from Jazz Bass Artists of the 1950s by Dave Hunt. Published by Cranston Publications; ISBN: 978-0-9823123-6-0. Available at AMAZON.COM

Table of Contents

Acknowledgmentsix

Prefacexi

About the Performance Profilesxiv

1 Introduction: Evolution of the Horn-Style Jazz Bass Solo17
 The 1920s: Primitive jazz accompaniment on the double bass; The 1930s: Monumental developments by Page and Blanton; Jimmy Blanton: Bridging the 30s and 40s; The 1940s: The birth of bebop; The 1950s: Diverse stylistic directions; The studio scene; Ramping up to the 1960s' exploratory jazz; Style issues for the 1950s jazz bass artists; Revisiting the artistry of the 1950s jazz bass artists; TABLE: Featured Jazz Bass Artists of the 1950s by Stylistic Category

2 Arvell Shaw: Bass Performance as Entertainment26
 Performance profile; RECOMMENDED LISTENING

3 Oscar Pettiford: Creativity With Clarity and Strength34
 Big dreams by a highly talented bassist; Elements of Pettiford's artistry in performance; Emerging bassist; The Pettiford-Clarke rhythm machine; Cello as a second instrument; Big band leader; The Pettiford musical sense of humor; A multi-talented but unrecognized musician; Expatriate to the end; RECOMMENDED LISTENING

4 Eddie Safranski: Technique Far Ahead of Its Time50
 Early innovator; Admirable jazz track record

5 Milt Hinton: A Fingerboard Full of Jazz History58
 The 1920s; The 1930s; The 1940s; The 1950s; The 1960s and 70s; The 1980s: Jazz historian; Performance profile; A final tribute; RECOMMENDED LISTENING

6 Ray Brown: Setting the Standard for Jazz Bass78
 The lasting legacy; New York years: musical and professional development; Enter Oscar Peterson; The Charlie Parker Quartet recording; The first real Brown sound on record; Original member of the Modern Jazz Quartet; A one-of-a-kind Clef recording; The Hampton recordings; The Oscar Peterson trios; Best of Brown from the New York years; West Coast years: Diversity of association; Diversity of recordings and associations with key creative artists, 1966-90; Playing it safe; Years of giving back; The essence of Ray Brown: It never ends

7 George Duvivier: Best-Kept Secret in the Jazz Bass World104
 Beginning of a successful career as an unknown bass artist; Holding to the highest of standards – musically and personally; Income opportunities with non-jazz musical personalities; Lack of name group affiliation; Not part of the evolving jazz scene; Was a more exploratory approach possible?; Choices made, opportunities lost; Performance profile; The legacy; RECOMMENDED LISTENING

8	Those Swinging Ellington Bassists: Wendell Marshall, Jimmy Woode and Joe Benjamin	124
	Performance profiles; RECOMMENDED LISTENING lists
9	Red Mitchell: Mastery of the Horn-Style Solo	150
	Red Norvo, 1952-54; Gerry Mulligan, 1954; Hampton Hawes, 1955-56, 1966; André Previn, 1957-60; Jim Hall, 1957-60, 1978; Clark Terry, late 1970s, 1986; Tommy Flanagan, 1980; In summary
10	Leroy Vinnegar: Walking Grooves Supreme	174
	Walking lines on which a reputation was built; The true jazz bass identity; An ideal but short-lived blues relationship
11	Charles Mingus: A Vision Beyond Bass, Jazz... and Music	184
	Early years of development; Jazz bass overview: 1945-65; Mingus as bassist; Music with a mission; In summary; The jazz legacy; RATING MINGUS' BEST RECORDINGS: Top pick CDs, superior CDs, excellent CDs
12	Paul Chambers: Natural Bass Artistry	202
	Career-defining association with Miles Davis; With Red Garland and Philly Joe Jones; With Bill Evans and Jimmy Cobb; With Wynton Kelly and Jimmy Cobb; With Wynton Kelly and Philly Joe Jones; Years of development with Miles; Performance profile; The legacy; RECOMMENDED LISTENING
13	Sam Jones: Model for Bebop, Hard Bop and Blues	232
	With Cannonball Adderley; With Oscar Peterson; With Cedar Walton; With Clifford Jordan; Performance profile; RECOMMENDED LISTENING
14	Doug Watkins: A Most Underrated Blues Talent	246
	Rhythmically dominant: Vinnegar and Watkins; The 2-bar repeated vamp; Gaining recognition with the Jazz Messengers; Maintaining conceptual development with pickup groups; RECOMMENDED LISTENING
	Appendix A – Jazz Bassists by Stylistic Category	260
	Appendix B – Jazz Bassists and the Bassists They Influenced: Historical List	262
	Appendix C – Jazz Bassists and the Players Who Influenced Them	266
	Appendix D – Alternate Versions of the Same Tune Featuring 1950s Bassists	270
	Appendix E – Four Bassists' Alternative Paths to Career Success (Milt Hinton, Eddie Safranski, George Duvivier, Ray Brown)	274
	Appendix F – Recording Facts of Life: Reissues on CD	275
	Appendix G – Jazz Web Resources	276
	Appendix H – Solo Development for Young Bassists	278
	About Dave Hunt	279

Top Tracks: Author's Choices

Arvell Shaw	32	"Wee" ("Allen's Alley")
"How High the Moon"		"I'll Remember April"
Oscar Pettiford	47	Leroy Vinnegar	181
"Double Play"		"A Handful of Stars"
"Stardust"		"How High the Moon"
"Body and Soul"		"Subway Grate"
"Blues for Sal"		"Doing That Thing (Double Stopping)"
Eddie Safranski	54	"Kick, Laugh, Crawl"
"Safranski (Artistry in Bass)"		Charles Mingus	195
"Flip and Jazz"		"What Is This Thing Called Love"
"One O'Clock Jump"		"Body and Soul"
"How High the Moon"		"Back Home Blues"
Milt Hinton	74	"Nostalgia in Times Square"
"I Never Knew"		"Pussy Cat Dues"
"Katz Meow"		"What Love"
"After After Hours"		"Very Special"
"Upstairs With Milt"		Paul Chambers	221
"Right Here, Right Now"		"Dexterity"
Ray Brown	99	"A Foggy Day"
"How High the Moon"		"Blue Red"
"Solo for Unaccompanied Bass"		"Whims of Chambers"
"In a Mellow Tone"		"Blues by Five"
"Another Blues"		"You'd Be So Nice to Come Home To"
"Tenderly"		"Straight, No Chaser"
"Stompin' at the Savoy"		"Pot Luck"
George Duvivier	117	"Skatin'"
"Basically Speaking, Duvivier, That Is"		"Cheryl"
"Skinned Strings"		"Daahoud"
"Nuttys"		Sam Jones	239
"Walter Ego"		"Monopoly"
"Rush Hour in Hong Kong"		"Night and Day"
"Bass Duet"		"Sack o' Woe"
"Lean on Me"		"Bloke's Blues"
"Relaxin' With Lee"		"Bolivia"
Red Mitchell	169	"Bittersweet"
"Paradise"		Doug Watkins	253
"Fluted Columns"		"All Day Long"
"Royal Garden Blues"		"Blues Without Woe"
"What Is This Thing Called Love"		"Tune Up"
"Low and Inside"		"Blues for Philly Joe"
"Reets Neet"		"Roots"
"You're Me"

Sidebars

Arvell Shaw

Accessible Recordings	30
Making History	31
Appearing on the Internet	32

Oscar Pettiford

First Cello-Playing Bassist	36
A Suggestion on Listening	39
Tight Bassist-Drummer Teams	42
Researching Jazz Cello	43
Losing Speed for Tone	44
An Octet at Birdland	45
Just to Avoid Confusion	48

Eddie Safranski

The Many Styles of Safranski	55
------------------------------	----

Milt Hinton

Learning From Cab Calloway	64
Solos as Models	70
The Trio Jeepy Renaissance	72
Great Tony Scott Quartets	74
Milt Hinton as Leader	76

Ray Brown

On Overissuing an Artist's Recordings	84
JATP Live at Carnegie Hall	86
The Peterson-Brown-Ellis Recordings	87
Lost Opportunities as Leader	98
Bass Solo Transcriptions	99
Norman Granz, Impresario	101

George Duvivier

Chico Hamilton and Duvivier	117
Joe Cinderella and Gil Melle	118
About Howard Roberts	118
Shelly Manne's Drums	121
Pianist Hank Jones	121
What if... Duvivier Had Aspired to Build a Fan Following?	123

Ellington Bassists

Wendell Marshall's Tone Quality	129
Joe Benjamin's Tone Quality	145

Red Mitchell

Did West Coast Jazz Artists Really Swing?	152
Pianoless Groups	157
Pianist-Bassist Pairings	158
Hampton Hawes' Drummers	160
A Red Mitchell Live Performance	162
Duos With Guitarists	163
Mitchell's Tuning	164
The Horn-Style vs. Speech-Inflected Solo	167
What if... ?	168
“What Is This Thing Called Love” Transcription Info	170
Thanks to OJC/Contemporary	170
Classical Music Influences	171
A Hank Jones Mystery	173

Leroy Vinnegar

Vinnegar-Type Bassists	182
------------------------	-----

Charles Mingus

Mingus' Harmonic Sophistication	190
About the CD Selections	193
Comparing Solo Interpretations	195
Charles Mingus' Saxists	197

Paul Chambers

Kelly Behind Coltrane	215
The Best of Piano-Bass-Drums Teams	216
Bows in the Hands of Bassists	220
“Straight, No Chaser” Transcription Info	226
Pianist Wynton Kelly	228
A Live Moment in All-Star Heaven	229

Sam Jones

Sam Jones and Pianists	241
The Eastern Rebellion CD	243

Doug Watkins

The Detroit Connection	249
A Matter of Taste	250
The Solo-Less Bass Contribution	254
The Watkins-Bill Evans Session	258